

MULTI PRESSURE COOKER

Cooking with and without steam pressure

Multi-purpose use – safe, easy & fast

Mein Hans

ROMMELSBACHER

Cooking with steam pressure - an indispensable part of traditional cooking. Our digital multi pressure cooker "Mein Hans" makes this type of preparation fit for the new millennium. Save time, energy and space: this all-rounder can replace up to 9 kitchen appliances. With the MD 1000, you can excellently cook, steam, roast and stew, prepare creamy rice pudding or yoghurt and even bake bread. It is also quickly ready for use for all modern cooking methods like 'Sous Vide' and 'Slow Cooking'. A total of 14 cooking programs, with or without steam pressure, is available for you. Whether without, with normal or soft steam pressure - the electronic system controls the cooking process fully automatically and safely. All programs can be individually adjusted. Manual settings are possible as well. "Mein Hans" is convincing in all areas by nutrient-protective results. This kind of preparation saves up to 70 % of time and 50 % of energy compared to traditional cooking processes. The switch-off takes place automatically; the subsequent warming mode keeps dishes to temperature up to one hour. High quality materials and a well thought-out construction ensure high user-friendliness. The removable cooking pot is non-stick coated and easy to clean. Thanks to the compact design, the appliance can be stored space-saving after use. A universal kitchen appliance you soon do not want to miss any more.
